Cryobiopsy for the Diagnosis and Treatment of Diseases of the Lung and Mediastinum: Mastering the Technique from the Masters

DESCRIPTION

This activity is designed to educate and train the practicing pulmonologist, chest surgeon, emergency department physician, hospitalists, internist, and oncologist, as well as other health care professionals interested in the care of patients with lung disease. Participants will develop a comprehensive knowledge of the management of lung diseases and indications, best practices, and associated complications of Cryobiopsy. As part of this activity, there will be both classroom-based didactics and practical hand-on training via a cadaver lab. We encourage RNs, NPs, and PAs with an interest in lung disease to attend as well.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This activity is intended for providers in Critical Care Medicine, Emergency Medicine, Internal Medicine, Family Practice, Nurse Practitioner, Nursing, Oncology, Physician Assistant and Pulmonology.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 5.5 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

POLICY ON PRESENTER AND PROVIDER DISCLOSURE

It is the policy of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine that the presenter and provider globally disclose conflicts of interest. The Johns Hopkins School of Medicine OCME has established policies in place to identify and mitigate relevant conflicts of interest prior to this educational activity. Detailed disclosure will be made prior to presentation of the education.

AMERICANS WITH DISABILITIES ACT

The Johns Hopkins School of Medicine fully complies with the legal requirements of the ADA and the rules and regulations thereof. Please notify us if you have any special needs.

OBJECTIVES

After attending this activity, the learner will demonstrate the ability to:

- Recognize current approaches to the indications for Cryobiopsy.
- Describe current options for diagnostic techniques in diffuse lung disease.
- Identify proper patient selection for Cryobiopsy techniques.

HOW TO OBTAIN CREDIT

Post activity, an online evaluation will be available to attendees to evaluate the activity and individual presentations and to identify future educational needs. Upon completion of the evaluation, the learner must attest to the number of hours in attendance. Credits earned will be added to the learner's transcript and immediately available for print.

The last day to access the evaluation and attest to your credits is July 19, 2024.

An outcome survey will be sent to all physician attendees within two months post activity to assist us in determining what impact this activity had on the learner's practice.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Applications for commercial support from health care related industries are pending. A complete list of contributors will be provided in the syllabus. Please note that commercial support received is solely for the educational component of the activity and will not be used to provide food and beverage.

Please note: The Physician Payments Sunshine Act was enacted by Congress to increase public awareness of financial relationships between drug and medical device manufacturers and physicians. In compliance with the requirements of this Act, the commercial supporter/s of this activity may require the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine to report certain professional information (such as name, address, National Provider Identifier (NPI), and State License number) of physician attendees who receive complimentary food and beverage in conjunction with a CME activity. The commercial supporter is required to submit the collected data to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services which will then publish the data on its website.
