DESCRIPTION

The burgeoning field of Neuroplastic and Reconstructive Surgery has continued its paradigm shift related to various techniques, surgical advancements, implantable neurotechnology, and improved biomaterials related to cranioplasty, cranial implants, and neurotechnology. These changes have stimulated us to assemble premier thought leaders in various specialties representing neurosurgery, neuroplastic surgery, craniofacial plastic surgery, and military medicine – in an effort to provide a timely, abbreviated, 2.5 hour webinar in place of our Annual Symposium held each November rotating between Harvard Medical School and Johns Hopkins School of Medicine – for which has since been moved to the Spring of 2021. The renowned faculty will present evidence-based data on surgical approaches and state-of-the-art materials to help engage our global colleagues, and to share high-yield experiences aimed at improving patient outcomes. Interactive panel discussions following the webinar will offer the opportunity to debate the evidence, exchange ideas, and gain invaluable insight to assist with the most challenging cases.
