DESCRIPTION

This course consists of didactic presentations and small group workshops to keep pediatricians, family practitioners and other child health clinicians up-to-date on a number of clinical practice recommendations relevant to pediatric primary care. Some of the topics to be covered include: childhood obesity; sleep disorders; vaping and lung injury; firearm injury prevention; HIV prevention; gender affirming care; concussions; depression and suicide; behavioral health emergencies; immunizations; atopic dermatitis; hypertension; sports injuries and much more.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This activity is intended for pediatricians, family practitioners, nurse practitioners and physician assistants involved in providing primary care for infants, children and adolescents

OBJECTIVES

After attending this activity, the learner will demonstrate the ability to:

- Discuss the latest immunization recommendations from the American Academy of Pediatrics (AAP).
- Perform a comprehensive approach to managing children and adolescents with overweight and obesity, based on the 2023 AAP Clinical Practice Guideline.
- Discuss harm reduction strategies for families to prevent firearm-related injuries and deaths.
- Identify effective ways to discuss health risks associated with cannabis use with adolescents.
- Recognize indications for offering Pre-exposure prophylaxis (PrEP) and post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) for preventing HIV.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

This activity has been planned and implemented in accordance with the accreditation requirements and policies of the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) through the joint providership of Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and Maryland Chapter, American Academy of Pediatrics. The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is accredited by the ACCME to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 11 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

POLICY ON PRESENTER AND PROVIDER DISCLOSURE

It is the policy of the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine that the presenter and provider globally disclose conflicts of interest. The Johns Hopkins School of Medicine OCME has established policies in place to identify and mitigate relevant conflicts of interest prior to this educational activity. Detailed disclosure will be made prior to presentation of the education.
