Hot Topics in Body CT Scanning: What You Need to Know

June 15 – 18, 2017
ARIA Hotel
Las Vegas, Nevada

Activity Director: Elliot K. Fishman, MD, FACR
Visit our CT Education Website: www.CTISUS.com

This activity is approved for AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™.

This activity has been approved for Category A ARRT credits for technologists.
Description
The rapid evolution of multidetector CT (MDCT) has impacted all aspects of patient diagnosis from cardiac imaging to vascular imaging to hepatic imaging. The development of these new scanners requires a close look at all aspects of our CT programs ranging from our scan protocols, to contrast injection to the use of oral contrast. The new clinical applications require a better understanding of our scanners as the “room for error” has decreased with scanners routinely acquiring datasets in under 10 seconds. New applications have evolved from coronary CTA to virtual colonoscopy to dual energy imaging, to name a few. Classic applications like imaging the liver, kidneys or pancreas have changed with the role of multiphase acquisition and post processing techniques becoming more critical. This has been both a time of change and a time of excitement. This meeting will provide the attendee with an improved understanding of the role of MDCT today and will help them improve their practice skills and knowledge base. Whether it is designing new scan protocols or learning new skill sets, this meeting will be a catalyst for increasing your core competencies through a series of lectures and hands-on training over a four-day period. The goal of the meeting is to improve your ability to do the best studies possible for optimal patient care in your own practice.

Who Should Attend
This activity is intended for radiologists and radiologic technologists.

Objectives
After attending this activity, the participant will demonstrate the ability to:

• Describe the current state-of-the-art of CT scanning today and its impact in clinical practice.
• Define the role of post processing techniques like MPR and 3D in clinical practice.
• Discuss the issues of radiation dose in CT and how to minimize dose exposure for your patients.
• Identify the newest scan protocols including the optimal use of oral and IV contrast agents.
• Recognize how to manage incidentalomas in the kidney, adrenal and pancreas.
• Define the role of Cardiac CT in practice today including study technique and optimal study design.
• Apply your expertise in abdominal imaging including details of renal, liver, kidney and bowel imaging.
• Summarize your knowledge in thoracic imaging including pulmonary embolism studies and HRCT.
• Identify the role of CT in pediatric applications.
• Assess your knowledge of vascular imaging including the role of 3D imaging in these applications.

Accreditation Statement
The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

Credit Designation Statement
The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 21 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

Other Credits
This activity has been approved by AHRA, the approving RCEEM: The Association for Medical Imaging Management for a maximum of 19 Category A, ARRT continuing education credits. You must attend each session in its entirety to obtain credit. No partial session credit will be awarded.

Policy on Speaker and Provider Disclosure
It is the policy of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine that the speaker and provider globally disclose conflicts of interest. The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine OCME has established policies in place that will identify and resolve all conflicts of interest prior to this educational activity. Detailed disclosure will be made in the instructional materials.

Methods of Payment: We require full payment prior to the start of the activity. On-site payments by credit card only. The registration fee includes instructional materials, continental breakfasts and refreshment breaks.
Physicians ..............................................................$795
Technologists/Residents*/Fellows*/Nurses/Allied Health Professionals..............................$650 *with verification of status
You will receive a confirmation by e-mail. If you have not received it by June 9, 2017, call (410) 502-9634 to confirm that you are registered. A transcript of attendance will be available upon attestation of your credit hours and will not be used to provide food and beverage.

The Johns Hopkins University registration desk. Messages will be posted on (702) 590-7111 and ask that a message be sent to the Johns Hopkins registration desk. Messages will be posted on the outside of the registration desk.

Late Fee and Refund Policy
A $50 late fee applies to registrations received after 5:00 p.m. ET on June 9, 2017. A handling fee of $50 will be deducted for cancellation. An additional fee may apply for cancellation of other events, including workshops and social activities. Refund requests must be received by fax or mail by June 9, 2017. No refunds will be made thereafter. Transfer of registration to another Johns Hopkins activity in lieu of cancellation is not possible.

Printed Syllabus
All registrants will receive a flash drive with the slides and paper for note-taking. This is included in the cost of your registration. A link to the syllabus will be provided via email shortly before the activity begins if you prefer to study or print the syllabus. A printed copy may be ordered at the time of registration for an additional fee of $60. The printed copy will be provided during activity registration. Cancellations or refunds for the printed copy will not be permitted.

Evaluation and Outcomes Survey
Post activity, an online evaluation form will be available to attendees to evaluate the activity and individual presentations and identify future educational needs. Upon completion of the evaluation, the learner must attest to the number of hours in attendance. Credits earned will be added to the learner’s transcript and immediately available for print. A survey will be sent to all physician attendees within three months post activity to assist us in determining what impact this activity had on the learner’s practice.

Emergency Calls
On June 15-18, 2017 direct emergency calls to (702) 590-7111 and ask that a message be sent to the Johns Hopkins registration desk. Messages will be posted for participants.

Americans with Disabilities Act
The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine fully complies with the legal requirements of the ADA and the rules and regulations thereof. Please notify us if you have any special needs.

Acknowledgment
Applications for commercial support from health care related industries are pending. A complete list of contributors will be provided in the syllabus. Please note that commercial support received is solely for the educational component of the activity and will not be used to provide food and beverage.

Please note: The Physician Payments Sunshine Act was enacted by Congress to increase public awareness of financial relationships between drug and medical device manufacturers and physicians. In compliance with the requirements of this Act, the commercial supporter of this activity may require the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine to report certain professional information (such as name, address, National Provider Identifier (NPI), and State License number) of physician attendees who receive complimentary food and beverage in conjunction with a CME activity. The commercial supporter is required to submit the collected data to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services which will then publish the data on its website.
