Johns Hopkins Wilmer Eye Institute's 39th Annual

Current Concepts in Ophthalmology

March 20-24, 2023

Livestream via Zoom or Grand Hyatt Vail Vail, Colorado

This activity has been approved for AMA PRA Category I Credits $^{\mathsf{TM}}$.

Presented by

Johns Hopkins Wilmer Eye Institute

In collaboration with University of Colorado School of Medicine

Johns Hopkins Wilmer Eye Institute's 39th Annual

Current Concepts in Ophthalmology

DESCRIPTION

This Current Concepts course will highlight the recent developments regarding diagnosis as well as medical and surgical therapy of common eye diseases. The participant should get a comprehensive review of the most current concepts in the management of ophthalmology by experts across the breadth of the field. For example, clinical trials and other evidence in the peer-reviewed literature over the past few years have changed the approach to managing cataract including IOL technology and femtosecond laser cataract surgery, corneal disease including dry eye disease, keratoplasty, and collagen cross linking, glaucoma and minimally invasive glaucoma surgical devices, as well as diabetic retinopathy, macular degeneration, and retinal vein occlusions. Furthermore, the role of optical coherence tomography (OCT) and other imaging advances are expanding the understanding of the anatomy of the anterior and posterior segment of the eye. This course will address the ongoing pattern of registrants with repeat requests for demonstrations of the latest surgical techniques and medical therapies, questions regarding practice management issues and clarification of legislative updates. There is a demand for expert education of new techniques and medical therapies as well as the need for elucidation of associated clinical trials, and these courses provide extensive coverage of that.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND

This activity is intended for ophthalmologists, optometrists, and ophthalmic allied health professionals.

OBIECTIVES

After attending this activity, the learner will demonstrate the ability to:

- Integrate prescribed medical and surgical treatment options into everyday practice, including uveitis, oculoplastics and ocular oncology.
- Assess the perioperative use of antibiotic and anti-inflammatory agents in patients undergoing eye surgery.
- Formulate current and advanced medical and surgical treatment strategies as well as imaging with corresponding ocular conditions, including: glaucoma, retina, anterior segment including "dry eye", uveitis, refractive surgery and laser assisted cataract and corneal transplant surgery.
- Discuss new medical techniques, therapies and relevant clinical trials in dry eye, refractive surgery, cornea, glaucoma, and retina, including diabetic retinopathy, macular degeneration, and retinal vein occlusion.
- Assess the latest developments for the management of pediatric ophthalmology and strabismus conditions.
- Describe unique considerations for cataract surgery in patients with comorbid glaucoma.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT

The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION STATEMENT

The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 27 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

Applications for commercial support from health care related industries are pending. A complete list of contributors will be provided in the syllabus. Please note that commercial support received is solely for the educational component of the activity and will not be used to provide food and beverage.

This schedule is subject to change.

Please note: The Physician Payments Sunshine Act was enacted by Congress to increase public awareness of financial relationships between drug and medical device manufacturers and physicians. In compliance with the requirements of this Act, the commercial supporter/s of this activity may require the Johns Hopkins School of Medicine to report certain professional information (such as name, address, National Provider Identifier (NPI), and State License number) of physician attendees who receive complimentary food and beverage in conjunction with a CME activity. The commercial supporter is required to submit the collected data to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services which will then publish the data on its website.
