Cordially Invite You to Attend

THE SEVENTY-SIXTH
CLINICAL MEETING

FRIDAY, MAY 19, 2017

William H. Welch Medical Library
Baltimore, Maryland

This activity has been approved for
AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™.
THE WILMER RESIDENTS ASSOCIATION 2017 CLINICAL CONFERENCE consists of presentations by faculty, residents, fellow and former trainees of The Wilmer Eye Institute on the most recent advances in clinical and laboratory research in ophthalmology. The practice of ophthalmology requires ophthalmologists to constantly participate in learning activities that will help them summarize, assess, analyze and evaluate the latest developments for management of various ocular conditions. Ophthalmologists attending this meeting will have the opportunity to learn and strengthen their surgical skills, hear and assess current clinical research on surgical techniques, instrumentation and outcomes, view and demonstrate state-of-the-art ophthalmic equipment and supplies, and improve practice management knowledge skills.

Who Should Attend
This activity is intended for ophthalmologists, optometrists, residents, research fellows, and medical students.

Objectives
After attending this activity, the participant will demonstrate the ability to:

- Identify and differentiate the latest techniques in the management of a wide variety of ocular conditions to include cataract, diabetic macular edema, glaucoma, and age-related macular degeneration.
- Diagnose and treat patients utilizing the techniques and theories validated by the activity including telemedicine, anti-VEGF treatment, IOP reduction, and imaging techniques.
- Integrate learned medical and surgical treatment options into their everyday practices.
- Improve cost-effectiveness by gaining familiarity with recommended treatment approaches and referral guidelines.

ACCREDITATION STATEMENT
The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine is accredited by the Accreditation Council for Continuing Medical Education (ACCME) to provide continuing medical education for physicians.

CREDIT DESIGNATION STATEMENT
The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine designates this live activity for a maximum of 6.25 AMA PRA Category 1 Credits™. Physicians should claim only the credit commensurate with the extent of their participation in the activity.

OTHER CREDIT
The Johns Hopkins University has approved this activity for contact hours for non-physicians.

POLICY ON SPEAKER AND PROVIDER DISCLOSURE
It is the policy of the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine that the speaker and provider globally disclose conflicts of interest. The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine OCME has established policies in place that will identify and resolve all conflicts of interest prior to this educational activity. Detailed disclosure will be made in the instructional materials.

Acknowledgement

Applications for commercial support from health care related industries are pending. A complete list of contributors will be provided in the syllabus. Please note that commercial support received is solely for the educational component of the activity and will not be used to provide food and beverage.

Please note: The Physician Payments Sunshine Act was enacted by Congress to increase public awareness of financial relationships between drug and medical device manufacturers and physicians. In compliance with the requirements of this Act, the commercial supporter/s of this activity may require the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine to report certain professional information (such as name, address, National Provider Identifier (NPI), and State License number) of physician attendees who receive complimentary food and beverage in conjunction with a CME activity. The commercial supporter is required to submit the collected data to the Centers for Medicare and Medicaid Services which will then publish the data on its website.
